GETTING TO THE ATLANTA DOGWOOD FESTIVAL

We always encourage attendees to take MARTA to the Atlanta Dogwood Festival. This year, it’s even more important than ever! Get your MARTA Breeze Card a workout!

The Atlanta Police Department will be heavily enforcing all traffic regulations around Piedmont Park the weekend of the Atlanta Dogwood Festival. Violating them can substantially increase your vehicle’s citation amount. We encourage you to take MARTA or use the Bolt app to get to Piedmont Park from your home. The 12th Street entrance, adjacent to the Atlanta High School, is moving to the Coca-Cola Main Stage! Highlighting the variety and breadth of Atlanta’s young artistic talent. You won’t want to miss a minute of the excitement from this year’s excellent lineup!

CULTURAL ALLIANCE PARTNERS

Every year, the Atlanta Dogwood Festival partners with some of the city’s most well-known arts & community organizations, who offer hands-on creative activities and demos throughout the festival.

ATLANTA HIGH SCHOOL ART EXHIBITION WINNERS

This year, the award-winning International Stage is moving to the Coca-Cola Main Stage. Highlighting the many international communities that call Atlanta home, the International Stage features child and adult, professional and amateur performers with genres including dance, music, martial arts, theater and more. We are grateful to all of the performers who donate their time and talent to this exciting stage each year.

ATLANTA DOGWOOD FESTIVAL PARTNERS

Every year we put on the city’s largest fine arts festival in Atlanta. Piedmont Park. Thanks to all of these hard-working people who make it all possible.

KIDS VILLAGE

Enjoy the Coca-Cola Garden! Located on the northwest corner of the 12th Street Entrance.

PRESENTED BY

The Greater Atlanta Dog and Disc Club is the oldest championship competition in the sport of Disc Dog. The Greater Atlanta Dog and Disc Club is back with tons of family-friendly, fur-flying fun! A fan favorite for more than 25 years, this event is a juried competition that will have the top acts on display and a tipping place of all the top acts playing on a large video screen. Guests will also have a chance to bid on silent auction items donated by local artists, teachers and friends of the Atlanta Dogwood Festival program.

Established in the early 1970s, the AHSAE recognizes and encourages the fine quality of art created by the area’s high school students. High school art students from more than 70 schools and 12 regional Atlanta counties submit work for the competition, which offers awards, and has a growing gap in creative opportunities for youth.

Now in its 13th year, the award-winning International Stage is moving to the Coca-Cola Main Stage. Highlighting the many international communities that call Atlanta home, the International Stage features child and adult, professional and amateur performers with genres including dance, music, martial arts, theater and more. We are grateful to all of the performers who donate their time and talent to this exciting stage each year.
